Program

Over this exciting 4 session professional learning experience, teachers will get the opportunity to critically reflect on their practice and collaborate with others to enhance their understanding of teaching and learning Mathematics. By applying relevant educational research as well as sharing and leveraging current best practices, teachers will build professional capacity to support student success in an inclusive Mathematics environment. Be prepared to challenge your thinking and experience the beauty and joy of mathematics while being supported by professional, collegial facilitators.

Session Topics:

- What matters in today's mathematics classroom
- Engagement/ thinking strategies
- Pedagogy Moves
- Assessment Strategies

Lunch included, please bring your morning refreshments.

Presenters

Anna Taplin

Anna Taplin has 23 years experience as a classroom teacher and an administrator. Anna is currently a district learning coach with HFCRD where she coaches and mentors teachers throughout the division. Anna received her B.Ed. degree specializing in Mathematics and Business Education from the University of Lethbridge and M.Ed. degree from the Simon Fraser University in Curriculum and Instruction, specializing in Numeracy. Anna has developed and facilitated many workshops for parents and teachers in the area of numeracy and had done extensive research around thinking classroom and teaching through storytelling in mathematics classroom. Anna is very passionate about sharing, learning and working collaboratively with teachers to discover "aha" mathematics moments. Anna lives in Peace River with her husband and two teenage daughters.

Spencer Pinnock

Spencer Pinnock is an award winning mathematics teacher with 13 year of teaching and leadership experience. He is currently a Learning Coach with HFCRD and is near completion of a M.Ed. in Curriculum and Assessment. Spencer has worked for the NRLC, and Alberta Education in the areas of mathematics assessment, curriculum building, and supporting teacher growth. Spencer is a proud husband, and father of 2 amazing young children.
